

Ike to Address UN Assembly on Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will go before the United Nations emergency assembly Wednesday for a major address outlining the United States program for the Middle East.

Announcing this today, the White House said Eisenhower plans to fly to New York tonight, leaving Washington about 8 p. m.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President will address the assembly Wednesday morning, probably shortly after it convenes at 10 a. m. (EDT).

Eisenhower plans to fly back to Washington shortly after his speech.

In announcing the President's plans, the White House gave out no information regarding the nature of the proposals he will make for political and economic stabilization of the Middle East.

Hagerty's announcement came shortly after Secretary of State Dulles arrived in New York to take charge of the U. S. delegation planning for the emergency assembly session.

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The United States announced today a token withdrawal of a Marine battalion from Lebanon, but this failed to satisfy Asian-African nations supporting Soviet demands for an immediate U. S.-British military exodus.

The U. N. announced that the United States and the Soviet Union will lead off Middle East debate in the 81-nation emergency General Assembly Wednesday, the day the Marines will leave.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will be the second speaker.

The move to pull out the Marines obviously was intended to take the edge off Soviet charges of aggression in Lebanon.

But Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, took a pot shot at Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's plan to "ease Middle East tensions. Its criticism was that Hammarskjöld did not call

State Fruit Crop Ahead of Last Year

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas' important fruit crop this year is expected to be far ahead of that for last year, when the output was virtually ruined by unseasonable frosts and any other unfavorable weather.

The soybean crop will be by far the largest of record; rice may show a slight increase, and production of oats and winter wheat will fall off because the ground was too wet for seeding last fall. The corn crop may be off slightly from last year.

This was the outlook in the crop forecast prepared by Agricultural Statistician Miles McPeck and his associates.

Soybean production, which is not hampered by acreage limitations, was forecast this year at 42,895,000 bushels. Last year's production was 32,500,000 bushels.

This year's rice crop was estimated at 11,121,000 bags of 100 pounds each, compared to 11,030,000 bags last year.

For fruit, the commercial apple outlook is 545,000 bushels this year against 48,000 last year; peaches 2,300,000 bushels against 1,000,000; and grapes 11,000 tons against 1,300.

Other state crop forecasts compared to last year's production with this year's figures first included:

Corn — 13,855,000 bushels compared to 1,932,000 bushels.
Winter wheat — 2,574,000 and 3,290,000 bushels.
Oats — 7,511,000 and 11,542,000 bushels.
Sorghum grains — 2,928,000 and 4,187,000 bushels.
Hay — 1,121,000 and 1,180,000 tons.
Pecans — 4,500,000 and 9,300,000 pounds.
Irish potatoes — 382,000 and 473,000 bags of 100 pounds each.
Sweet potatoes — 280,000 and 200,000 bags.

State's September Draft Quota 124

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas' draft quota for September is 124 men, State Selective Service Headquarters here announced today.

The national quota for September is 11,000 men.

Col. Fred M. Croom, state director, said approximately 200 non-eligible registrants who are at least 22 years of age will be ordered for induction to fill Arkansas' quota.

Sheriff Evicts a Sick Man Regardless

LANSDOWNE, Pa. (AP)—Two deputy sheriffs kicked in the door of a bicycle and shoe repair shop today in an effort to evict a sick man and his defiant wife.

The wife, 52-year-old Jennie Plachetko, stood stolidly behind the locked glass-paneled door. She held a hammer in one hand, a copy of the Constitution in the other.

"This is no Russian," Mrs. Plachetko cried in a losing cause. "She and her husband, Michael, 62, have run the shop for 32 years, living in rear lodgings."

The Lansdowne County Court issued an eviction notice after the property was condemned to make way for a parking lot.

Plachetko was in bed when deputies George Washington and Sol Capano arrived. With Mrs. Plachetko was a daughter, 34-year-old Mrs. Marjorie Mallick.

The deputies kicked at the door. One of them took a hammer from a mover, on hand to haul away the Plachetkos' belongings, and whacked away at the outside lock.

In the end the glass was shattered. Mrs. Mallick was cut on an arm. So was Capano.

Mrs. Plachetko held firm, hammer in hand. Beside her was the daughter, holding five feet of lead pipe.

The two deputies helped by three Lansdowne policemen, disarmed the women.

The movers then began rolling the family's belongings into two vans and off to a warehouse. The county must pay for storage.

"The Borough of Lansdowne had the right to take the property," said Sheriff J. Aldrich Price. "We had no discretion to act otherwise."

Appraisers set a price of $18,000 on the property. The Plachetkos said they turned down $40,000 for it several years ago. They operate two other stores in this Philadelphia suburb.

Uprising Against Jordan King Seen

Confident a Farm Program Will Pass

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Rep. W. F. Norrell (D-Ark.) said today he is confident Congress will pass "a reasonably satisfactory farm program" before it adjourns.

"We may have to give and take a little but cotton and rice especially must have some consideration," he said.

Norrell arrived in Arkansas last night to be present for today's Democratic primary in which he is opposed for renomination by former State Sen. W. E. (Buck) Fletcher of Lonoke. The congressman said he would return to Washington tomorrow.

"I would say that in my judgment Congress will not adjourn this week," Norrell said. "My guess is that we'll not adjourn until some time next week during which time we will pass some kind of reasonably satisfactory farm program."

He blamed last week's defeat of an omnibus farm bill on House Minority Leader Joseph Martin (R-Mass.) who rallied enough votes to beat it because "Mr. Benson didn't like it." Ezra Taft Benson is secretary of agriculture.

U. S. Explodes Nuclear Device in Pacific

HONOLULU (AP)—The United States exploded a nuclear device at Johnston Island today. The brilliant flash lit up Hawaiian skies.

U. S. Pacific Command headquarters announced the explosion occurred at 12:30 a. m. Hawaii time.

Roof-top observers in Hawaii saw the flash from the Johnston area, 700 miles southwest of Honolulu, turn to a rose color and gradually fade.

On Aug. 1, a high-level explosion of a nuclear warhead from Johnston startled thousands of Hawaii residents as a mushroom cloud rose in the Hawaiian sky.

This morning's blast did not appear quite so spectacular. Advance warning of the shot brought thousands of Hawaii residents to their rooftops.

Hoffa Admits Gifts But No Cash Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamster President James R. Hoffa testified today he has received gifts but "no cash money" from a Detroit labor relations consultant with whom he discussed labor contracts.

Hoffa told the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee he received the gifts from George Kamenow.

As a witness before the committee last year, Kamenow took the Fifth Amendment when asked whether he had been a go-between for employers in influence deals with Teamster officials. He also balked at giving details of his financial transactions with unionists, including Hoffa.

Hoffa professed only a vague recollection of what gifts and favors he had accepted from Kamenow.

He said he does recall receiving a gift of fishing tackle, and is just about sure he once got a gift certificate but that he couldn't recall the amount.

Hoffa had a long go-round with the committee over what Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) called the Teamsters president's "perpetuating crooks in office" in the union.

In the course of this, Hoffa said he subscribes to what he termed the philosophy of the late labor leader Samuel Gompers — "take care of your friends and whip your enemies."

Hoffa denied that fear held him back from throwing hoodlums and officials with criminal records out of the union.

"I'm not frightened by anybody," the bouncy Hoffa roared. "I do not frighten easily."

Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, had asked whether Hoffa was "frightened of these people."

Hoffa conceded the teamsters constitution gives him extraordinary powers to eject hoodlums but he added:

"You have to be careful." He said use of broad powers by his predecessor, Dave Beck, led to Beck's fall from power. (Beck was convicted of misuse of union funds).

"I say you are not tough enough to get rid of these people," Kennedy said.

"I don't propose to act tough," Hoffa replied. "I will follow the constitution."

TV to Air UN Emergency Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—Television and radio networks announced today these plans for coverage of the emergency session of the United Nations General Assembly which starts Wednesday.

CBS and NBC will monitor continuously an interrupt regular programs on both TV and radio for on-the-spot coverage as developments warrant.

ABC radio will broadcast continuously throughout the day and into the evening all meetings, starting at 9:30 a. m. EST. ABC television has no plans.

Mutual radio, broadcasting all meetings in full, in addition has set up a roundtable review from 8:35 to 9 o'clock nightly.

Heavy Local Interest as Hempstead Voters Flock to Polls Today

Light Turnout Expected Over Most of State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Voting ranged from light to brisk across Arkansas today as Democrats and Republicans went to the polls to cast ballots in separate primaries.

Overall turnout appeared far behind that of July 29 in which Gov. Orval Faubus won a third term nomination over two opponents by a landslide majority.

Secretary of State C. G. Hall predicted a vote total of 301,000 for the Democrats today compared to nearly 380,000 two weeks ago. No estimate was available for Arkansas' first statewide Republican primary in history.

The pace of the voting seemed dictated by the heat of local races. Hot Springs and Magnolia reported "brisk" voting. "Light" reports came from Camden, Fort Smith, Jonesboro and Conway.

Scattered rainshowers which pelted northern and eastern Arkansas also were expected to hold down the total.

Democrats were selecting nominees for two positions on the Arkansas Supreme Court, state treasurer and congressman from the Sixth District. There were also 50 races for state representative, five for state senator, one for chancery judge and five for prosecuting attorney in various sections of the state.

The ballot contained races left unsettled in the July 29 primary and those with no more than two original candidates.

Republicans were concerned principally with naming a gubernatorial nominee to oppose Faubus in the November general election.

As a result of the 1957 law under which the Republicans were holding their first primary, both parties also had to ballot on state committeemen for the first time.

Previously the Democratic and Republican state committees were named in conventions.

Polls opened at 8 a. m. and were scheduled to close at 6:30 p. m. The integration dispute, which played a strong role in the landslide victory Faubus won in his bid for an almost unprecedented third term, broke into the fore again in the Supreme Court contests.

Jim Johnson, a 34-year-old Crosscut attorney who organized the first Citizens Council in Arkansas in 1955, branded the man whose office he seeks — Justice Minor Milwee — as a "dunk" for liberals.

Johnson has proposed a state constitutional amendment which would force the closing of any public school ordered by a court to integrate.

Ciffin Smith Jr. of Little Rock charged that Justice Ed P. McFaddin, whom he opposes, delivered a blow to civil liberties by dissenting to a verdict in last fall's Central High School integration crisis. The high court had ruled that a man arrested during anti-integration demonstrations at the school could not be prosecuted.

Smith, 42, is the son of the late state Supreme Court chief justice. Neither of the incumbents has replied directly to his opponent.

The 57-year-old Milwee has been on the court since he was named to fill an unexpired term in 1945. McFaddin, 63, was elected in 1942. Arkansas justices serve eight-year terms.

The third contested Democratic post was for state treasurer. Incumbent J. Vance Clayton, in office since 1944, was opposed by Ed Taylor, a McCrory furniture dealer and former county judge.

Rep. W. E. Norrell of Monticello faced competition for his Sixth District Congressional post from W. E. Fletcher of Lonoke, a former state representative.

The Republicans, forced by a 1957 state law to nominate in primaries in a state of convention, chose between George W. Johnson, a 75-year-old Greenwood attorney, and Donald D. Layne, a 34-year-old Little Rock civil engineer, in the gubernatorial race, the only state office on their ballot.

Charges Filled in Two Wrecks Here

Two auto accidents were investigated by Hope City Police yesterday with charges filed in both cases.

Late yesterday an auto driven by Bill R. Tooley ran into a truck driven by J. M. Atkins on North Hazel St. with heavy damage resulting. Officers Rowe and Rohswell charged Tooley with reckless driving.

Earlier Monday at Third and Greening a truck driven by A. T. Hembree hit an auto driven by Robert McClure who had stopped. Considerable damage resulted. Officers Moses and Wylie charged Hembree with driving while intoxicated, no brakes and no driver's license.

U. S. Taking Some Men Out of Lebanon

By EDWIN SHANKE
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—The United States is withdrawing one battalion of Marines from Lebanon at once.

Sweating Leathernecks of the 2nd Battalion of the 2nd Division began moving their heavy equipment to the beach shortly after the announcement today. They will begin leaving early Wednesday.

Saeb Salam, rebel leader in Beirut, said he welcomed "this symbolic step" but emphasized it fell short of rebel demands for a complete withdrawal.

The 1,700-man 2nd Battalion was the first U. S. unit to land July 15 at the request of President Camille Chamoun, who feared a pro-Nasser uprising similar to the one that overthrew the government of Iraq July 14.

Adm. James L. Holloway, commander of the 15,000 U. S. Marines and troops in Lebanon, announced the withdrawal. He indicated this was the beginning of the pullout of U. S. forces.

The American action was obviously intended to influence the debate on the Middle East beginning Wednesday in an emergency session of the U. N. General Assembly.

College Stars to Play a Wide Open Game

By JOE MOOSHL
CHICAGO (AP) — The College All-Stars, fully aware they cannot "outmuscle" the Detroit Lions, are expected to employ a wide-open game when the two teams clash in Soldier Field Friday night.

"You can't run through these guys," says All-Star head coach Otto Graham. And Graham should know. For years he passed the Cleveland Browns to numerous professional championships.

"We'll play a wide-open game and try to win that way," added Graham. "You can't outmuscle your competition in pro football."

The All-Stars will be at least two-touchdown underdogs for this 25th annual midsummer classic.

The All-Stars have won 7 and lost 15. Two games ended in ties.

"Desire is the important thing," says Graham, who is satisfied with his team's general attitude.

"They've worked hard and have not slumbered."

Graham's big problem is to make a group of individuals a team in a short time and offset the advantage the professionals have in playing together and winning the National Football League championship.

The 1958 edition of the All-Stars has size, speed and a taste of what to expect. Last week, Graham and his assistants took their squad to the Chicago Bear training camp for a scrimmage. The Bears won 24-7 but the Stars made a good showing in the second half.

U of A Signs Star Half of Mississippi

BROOKHAVEN, Miss. (AP) — The University of Arkansas has signed Lance Alworth, widely sought Brookhaven high school star halfback.

Alworth, 17, originally was headed for the University of Mississippi but his marriage last April to 16-year-old Betty Allen of Brookhaven voided his grant-in-aid scholarship.

Since then many other colleges and major league baseball clubs had tried to sign him. Alworth left for four sports at Brookhaven High and also was an honor student.

Frank Broyles, Arkansas head football coach, signed the scholarship agreement at Alworth's home last night.

"I can't say how elated I am that Lance is going to be with us at the university," Broyles said. "Not only is he a fine athlete but he is a splendid boy off the field as well. Lance will be an asset to our team, our school, our state."

John Vaughn, Mississippi football coach, declined to comment. The latest starring role of the 175-pound halfback who won All-Big Eight Conference honors came last Friday night when he scored the only touchdown in the South's 7-0 victory over the North in the annual Mississippi High school All-Star game at Jackson.

On Aug. 2 he made one touchdown for the East in its 21-0 rout of the West in the All-American Prep Game at Memphis, Tenn.

Petition Seeks New Hearing for Leggett

Little Rock (AP) — Attorney Kenneth Coffelt said today he would file a petition soon asking the state penitentiary superintendent for a sanity hearing for condemned slayer Emmett Earl Leggett.

Coffelt today received a letter from Dr. Herbert C. Modlin of the Menninger Clinic at Topeka, Kan., recommending five psychiatrists to examine Leggett.

Dr. Granville Jones, superintendent of the Arkansas State Hospital, Saturday declined to help Coffelt select a panel of psychiatrists.

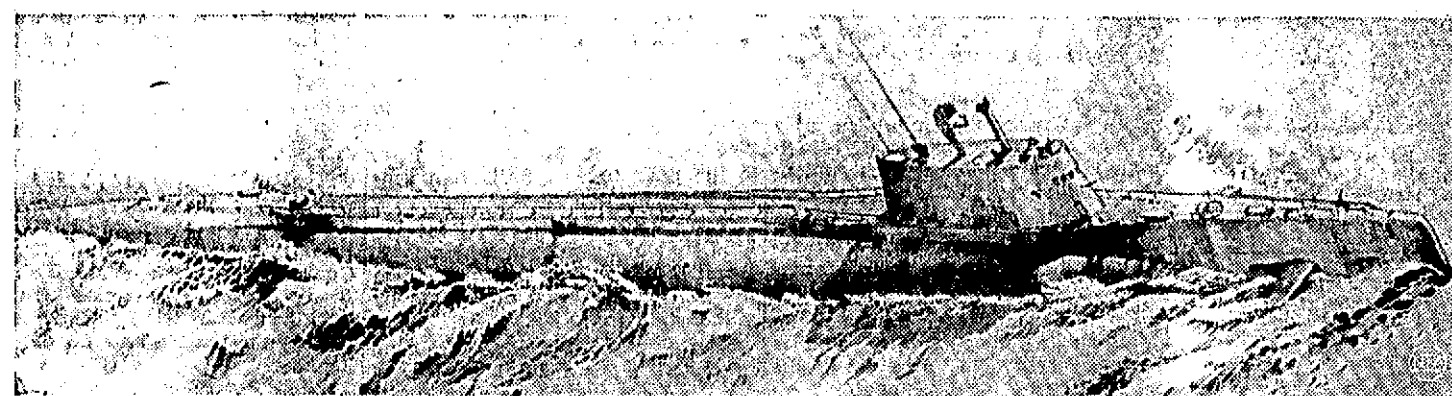

The State Hospital twice has ruled Leggett sane. Modlin was one of three Menninger psychiatrists who voluntarily examined Leggett last year and said that he was mentally ill.

Coffelt said Meninger's willingness to cooperate in the latest

In effect that is what will happen unless V.O.I. and all other American drivers exercise the greatest of caution on the forthcoming three-day Fourth of July weekend. On the three-day Memorial Day weekend the traffic death toll was 389, according to the National Safety Council records.

If each four individuals were a family unit, living in a home, then 95 houses such as those pictured above would have been standing empty. This is a harsh way to visualize the horror that takes place on the nation's highways each holiday. But perhaps if it could be truly imagined in these terms, there might be less fatalities to count when the Fourth holiday ends.

Reviews and Views From Television

United Press International.
By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—Views and reviews:

CBS-TV's "Studio One" drama, "Tagalong," was one of those good-intentioned things about prejudice that suffered from sag around its middle and a cavalcade-in-the-rescue trick ending. James Gregory, as the meekie who turns gonnie, delivered with his customary competence.

Princess Margaret's brief spief from Nova Scotia, carried by NBC-TV last evening, was a mediocre American live TV debut. She was quite poised, but injected only a midigin of animation into her talk. She didn't really light up until her speech was finished, but I can't say I blame her—she may have been as bored by the yawny conventionalities of her discourse as I was.

Shari Lewis sat in for Jinx Plakenburg on the panel of CBS-TV's "Masquerade Party" Monday night—Jinx was virus-bugged. One of the clowns on ABC-TV's "Cowtown Rodeo" Monday night suffered a bruised leg in a mix-up with a bull. The clowning was the best feature of "Cowtown Rodeo" the cowboys they can send back to Wyatt Earp.

It's a shame there are no plans afoot to keep ABC-TV's "Stars of Jazz" on through the winter—it's one of the few really nourishing shows left on TV. Paul Desmond on "Stars of Jazz" Monday night trotted out some marvelously fertile horn on "Someday My Prince Will Come" and it was heartening to note that Dave Brubeck is beginning to move away a little from those massive chunk chords of his that have almost become a stylistic cliché.

Dr. Wade Ruby is starting to move on NBC-TV's "Twenty One" Monday night he knocked over two opponents to boost his pile to $46,000. Gordon Polk's comedy caper on the NBC-TV "Jack Paar Show" was funny, but far out somewhere west of Saturn. Adolph Green and Betty Comden were a pretty tedious tandem on the Paar show, but Judy Holiday was rather refreshing, if wacky. However, I could have done without Paar's excessive plugging of Miss Holiday's latest record album.

"The Channel Swim: Northwest Passage," the half-hour color series originally ticketed for Friday night on NBC-TV this fall, now has been shifted to Sunday in the spot just before Steve Allen's hour. Some of the gals scheduled for featured in "Northwest Passage" should give it an international flavor—Ziva Rodann, a former Miss Israel, Taina Elg of Finland and Lisa Montell of Mexico.

"Rawhide," the 30-minute Western that CBS-TV was touting for the fall, now looks like a doubtful starter. However, "Rawhide" films will continue to be produced with an eye toward showing them into a breach later in the season.

"Pursuit," a one hour live series from Hollywood with Norman Tilton as producer, has bobbed up as a probable starter for Wednesday night on CBS-TV.

"County Fair," a daily afternoon variety half-hour with Bert Parks as emcee, will unpop on NBC-TV Sept. 22. "Modern Romances" and the last 15 minutes of "Queen For A Day" will be dropped to make room for it. Jack Barry pulled a funny boo-boo on last Friday's NBC-TV "The Ted Dugan"—a cartoon character for

Primaries in Several States Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Negro rights were at issue today in primary elections in New York and Arkansas. Farther west, in Idaho, a primary featured a candidate for governor who wants legalized gambling.

The New York primary was held in Harlem itself. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell was challenged for the Democratic nomination for his House seat by another Negro, City Councilman Earl Browder.

The contest is only one of 52 primaries for congressional and State Legislature nominations in New York state. But politicians regard it as a possible gauge of Negro political sentiment in the nation.

It is the attitude towards the race question by the two candidates that makes the issue considerably more than purely local. Powell has gone all out. He has called Brown a "hand-picked Uncle Tom"—a Negro phrase for members of their race considered subservient to whites.

For his part, Brown has accused Powell of rabble rousing racism and "treason to the Democratic party."

Most observers think Powell will win. He already has the Republican nomination. What politicians will be studying will be the victory margin.

In Arkansas, where Gov. Orval Faubus won an overwhelming primary victory July 29, the race issue has been raised in contests for nominations of two State Supreme Court justices.

As in the case of Faubus, the big question is integration of public schools.

Atty. Jim Johnson, organizer of Arkansas' first Citizens Council, a segregationist group, is trying to unseat Justice Minor Millwee.

Johnson calls Millwee a "lunkie" for liberals. Johnson says there ought to be a state constitutional amendment to force the closure of a public school ordered to integrate.

The other Arkansas Supreme Court contest is between Griffin Smith Jr. and Justice Ed F. McFaddin. Smith objects to a dissenting opinion by McFaddin to a court ruling that man arrested during anti-integration demonstrations could not be prosecuted.

The Idaho man plumping for legalized gambling is State Sen. A. M. Derr, one of four Democratic candidates for governor.

It is Derr's contention that gambling casinos should be permitted in those Idaho communities that want it. Should that be done, he says, Idaho would benefit from a gambling tax and increased tourist business as well.

Derr's primary opponents are State Sen. Max Hanson; John Glasby, former Democratic state chairman; and Omar Maine, a farmer.

The winner will run against Gov. Robert E. Smylie, a Republican.

Youth Falls Three Floors, Unhurt

NEW YORK (AP)—Two-year-old Stephen May toddled to a window of a third-floor Brooklyn apartment Monday, climbed to the ledge and hung by one arm over the sidewalk.

Across the street, Benjamin Kroczak, 54, was outside his grocery, picking up crates of milk that had just been delivered.

The child screamed. Kroczak and saw the boy suspended. Kroczak, wounded in a leg during World War II, quickly limped across the street, removing his spectacles.

Just as the grocer stationed himself below the window, Stephen let go.

The boy crashed into his arms. The impact caused the grocer's knees to buckle, but he held on. Neither man nor child was hurt.

The mother, Mrs. Jean May, 26, said she had dozed off in bed with the child playing beside her.

DOROTHY DIX

Gain Popularity Being Just You

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I suppose you are swamped with letters from teen-agers asking you "How Can I Be Popular?" Well, here's another one to add to the collection. I just don't know why I can't make friends. I'm quite attractive, active in school sports, dance well, have nice clothes, but I want more friends—especially boys. I have watched the popular girls in school, and try to act like them. I've been sweet and gentle, cute and witty, hard-to-get, and easy-to-win. I guess I'm just a bum actress. I've been a flop in every role. You have so many answers, maybe you have one for me.

Dear Dorothy: Have you ever tried playing Endid? The role to which you should be the most accustomed might be the one that wins star billing. When you're an imitation you ring false, and people instinctively know this. "She's a phony" is the sure knell to popularity. Develop your own personality, even if it is dignified, practical and sensible, and quite unglamorous— you think. People may not flock to you in droves, but those you do attract will be real friends who will stick. There is no such thing as "type" that all men admire. Nor is there any formula for winning the popularity that everyone desires. Learn to fit into your own niche where you'll find happiness.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My husband and I are in our 50s, and have no children or close relatives. He works, of course, I finish my housework early, and spend the rest of the day being lonesome. Is there any activity you can suggest?

Dear Mrs. T. P.: All that wonderful energy and talent going to waste? I certainly can suggest an outlet for it. In fact, I could go on for pages telling you things to do. One very worthwhile project would be to offer your services, through the charitable organization of your religious affiliation, as a substitute mother. Many households run into trouble or sickness and desperately need someone to take over while the mother is incapacitated. Ask your pastor to suggest other fields in which a capable, healthy woman could be useful.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

Felix and I met when we were sophomores and have dated for the four years since. Lately my friends have been telling me he's been seen with other girls. He has denied all these stories, but they were repeated so often I decided to find out for myself. I went to see one of the girls involved; she readily admitted they had been dating but said he had told her we had broken off. When I confronted him with the absolute truth he admitted everything. I forgave him. We started dating again and pretty soon the same old thing was repeated. If he doesn't care for me we are both wasting our time.

Dear Dianne: You've been wasting time for quite a while and it should be stopped. If you can't trust a boy, what value has he as a friend? Don't bother dallying some one else for spite, as you suggested in your letter. Date for keeps.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

One of my best friends in high school was Bruce, although we never went steady. I hadn't seen him for almost two years, when suddenly I received a letter from him telling me about his new job way up north. Now I'm going with someone else and I know it would be against my present boy friends wishes to answer the letter. At the same time, I would feel guilty in ignoring it. What would be best?

Dear Prudence: Tell your present boy friend about the letter and your feeling (which is correct) that it would be extremely rude to ignore it.

more it. Offer to let him read your answer in which you will, of course mention the fact that you are going steady.

Nomination of Henley May Just Die

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Democrat said today that the nomination of J. Smith Henley of Harrison to be a federal district judge here apparently will die when Congress adjourns later this month.

President Eisenhower last Feb. 24, nominated Henley to succeed Judge Thomas C. Trimble, retired. The Senate Judiciary Committee has yet to take any action on the nomination.

The Democrat, in a special dispatch from Washington, said: "An informed Capitol source said it is extremely unlikely that the committee will do anything on the nomination during the adjournment rush despite the fact that nobody has actually voiced an objection to Henley's appointment."

The dispatch blamed two unrelated factors for the Henley delay—although Henley was not directly involved in either one. The first was the controversy over nomination of W. Wilson White to head the new Civil Rights Division of the Justice Department, which the Senate Judiciary Committee finally approved by a divided vote yesterday. The second is complications arising from a pending omnibus judgeship bill.

Police Stop Auto, Driver Flees

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)— Approximately 20 county and city police combed fields on the outskirts of Jonesboro today for a man who fled on foot when a police officer stopped an automobile for routine investigation.

Police Chief Herbert Pierce said George Joe Taylor, 42, of Tusculum, Ala., and Taylor's former wife, Marie Birdley of Jonesboro, were taken into custody for questioning.

The chief said the third person in the car stopped by city Patrolman Charles Clanton at 1 a.m. jumped from the auto and ran. He had not been apprehended.

Inside the car, officers found $92

in nickels, dimes and quarters but Pierce said Taylor denied any knowledge of the money.

Taylor is wanted at Paris, Tenn., on burglary charges. Pierce said. The chief quoted the man as saying that he previously had served three Tennessee sentences for robbery and burglary.

Lopez May Yet Push Red Sox Into 2nd Spot

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now that the big guns of his Chicago White Sox pitching staff have begun to fire, Al Lopez may yet extend his amazing record of never finishing worse than second as a manager.

Lopez has not much else to shut for in his 11th year as a skipper. His usual hopes of securing the American League pennant from the New York Yankees were junked long ago, when near Billy Pierce and Dick Donovan and a trade-bolstered staff muffled.

Lopez was last two months ago, seven games shy of second, 14 back of the leading Yankees. Pierce, a 20-game winner in 1956 and 1957, was 4-5. Donovan was 2-7.

Now the White Sox have squeezed into a second-place tie with Boston. Donovan has won six in a row and Pierce 8 of 11 in that climb from the cellar.

Pierce pulled the White Sox even with Boston Monday night, winning 3-1 at Cleveland while the Red Sox lost 6-3 at Washington. It left the White Sox 15 games behind New York, however, despite, Baltimore's 3-2 and 9-3 sweep over the Yankees in a day-night doubleheader.

Detroit defeated Kansas City 3-2 in the other AL game.

In the National League, Pittsburgh gained a share of second and cut Milwaukee's lead to six games by beating the Braves 6-4. Cincinnati and Philadelphia split in the only other games scheduled. The Redlegs won 12-11 in the completion of a June 1 suspended game that went 13 innings. Then the Phils won the regularly scheduled game 5-4 in 10 innings.

Pierce (12-8) gave up seven hits, walked but one and struck out seven. He had a two-out shutout until the seventh, when ex-teammate Minnie Minoso slammed his 16th home run. Minoso, who also doubled, was the only trim with an extra-base hit off the little southpaw.

Nellie Fox drove in one run for the Sox and scored another with a pair of doubles off Ray Narleski, now 11-10.

Jack Harshman and Connie Johnson delivered a pair of seven hit bats as the Orioles won for the first time this season at Yankee Stadium. Harshman (9-10), carried by home runs from Bob Nieman and Joe Ginsberg, struck out nine in the opener. He had a five-hit shutout until Bill Skowron's two-out, two-run pinch homer in the ninth. Art Dittmar (8-3) was the loser.

The Orioles scored five runs in the nightcap first, three unearned, off loser Johnny Kuetsch (7-5) and rolled as ex-Yankee Gene Woodling went 5-for-5 and drove in three runs, one with a homer. Johnson blanked the Yankees after Mickey Mantle's two-run, fifth-inning homer.

It was the Mick's 32nd, keeping pace with Boston's Jack Jensen and Washington's Roy Sievers for the AL lead. Jensen and Sievers matched two-run shots in the fourth inning, but Sievers added a winning RBI single in the fifth off loser Bill Monbouquette.

The Tigers did their scoring on a walk and four singles with two out in the fourth and Jim Bunning (10-7) won his first since his July 20 no-hitter. Hank Aguirre saved it after Frank House hit a two-run homer in the ninth, Bob Grim was the loser.

Pirates Slam Braves to Take Over 2nd Place

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Maybe Pittsburgh's persistent Pirates, pulling in fans and crowding the leaders, aren't just along for the ride after all in that National League pennant race.

The Bucs, usually scrapping to escape the cellar at this stage of the season, have paired pitching with a steady bat attack for a five-game winning streak and a share of second place with San Francisco, cutting Milwaukee's lead to six games.

They did it the hard way Monday night, knocking off the Braves and battering tough guy Warren Spahn 6-4 while reliever Elroy Face saved Bob Friend's 13th victory.

Cincinnati and Philadelphia split a pair in the only other NL games scheduled. The Redlegs won the completion of a June 1 suspended game 12-11 in 13 innings. The Phils won the regularly scheduled game 5-4 in 10 innings.

In the American League, Baltimore swept a day-night doubleheader from New York 3-2 and 9-3. The Chicago White Sox gained a share of second with Boston, beating Cleveland 3-1 while Washington defeated the Red Sox 6-3.

Friend, joining Spahn as the only NL pitcher to win 15 this season, outdueled the veteran lefty with ease before tiring in the eighth. He had the Braves blanked for seven, gave up a run in the eighth and was charged with 3 in the ninth.

Friend (15-12) gave up nine hits, walked three and struck out five. Spahn (15-8) was tagged for 11 hits and all six runs in his 6-2-3 innings.

Bill Mazeroski drove in three runs with a pair of singles and a triple for the Bucs. Hank Aaron had three hits for the Braves and lined a two-run single in the ninth before Face got Joe Adcock on a game-ending fly ball with the tying run on base.

A throwing error by losing reliever Dick Farrell enabled Frank Robinson to scout home from first with the tie-breaking run for the Reds in the opener. The game was tied 11-all when Cincinnati hit in the ninth when the Sunday curfew fell in June. Joe Nuxhall won it in relief.

A walk, Fielder's choice and Willie Jones' single gave the nightcap to the Phils after Ed Bailey's two-run homer had tied it 4-4 in the ninth for the Reds. Willard Schmidt lost it in relief while Don Cardwell 2-0 went all the way for his second victory over the Reds.

Middlecoff Can't Explain His Mastery

By CHUCK CAPALDO
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Cary Middlecoff was at a loss today to explain his mastery of the back nine at the Tripoli Golf Club, a mastery that earned him the $5,300 first prize in the $35,000, 72-hole Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament.

The 37-year-old ex-dentist from Memphis, Tenn., who now plays out of Hollywood, Fla., posted a tournament record 16-under-par 204 Monday.

He shot a 35-32-87 in the final round on Tripoli's par 35-35-70 layout, eclipsing by one stroke the tournament standard he shared with Ed Furgol.

Middlecoff, in ending a personal 20-month major tournament victory drought, played Tripoli's back nine as though he owned it. He finished 17 under par there, in marked contrast to the front nine where he was one over.

"I can't explain it," he said, "except to say I am not a very good starter, usually. They tell me 15 of the 18 birds I shot during the tourney were on the back nine."

"Actually," he added, "there isn't much difference between the two nines. Normally, I play back nines, a little better than front nines, but the difference here was just unbelievable."

"Part of it may be traceable to a couple of sad experiences I've had on this course the last two years. I guess I was just a little bit cautious on the front nine, not wanting them to happen again, and then opened up on the back nine. It just seemed like it belonged to me."

Second place and $3,400 went to Bob Rosburg, Palo Alto, Calif., who scored 286.

Bill Casper Jr., Apple Valley, Calif., was third with a 287. He won $2,200.

Rosburg, who was five back at Middlecoff when play started Monday, caught and blossomed Casper on the final six holes as he shot a 4-under 31 for a 64, best round of the day. Casper shot a 67.

Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., and Bob Gonyea, Belleville, Ill., tied for fourth place with 270. Each picked up $1,800.

THE CUB DRIVERS CLUB OF AMERICA INC. is now appointing qualified individuals who are financially able to handle a recreational business whose potential will be $20,000 and more annually. The person chosen will be set-up in business and trained in the operation to make him successful. Annual repeat income assured a lively promotion minded operator. $11,500 cash required immediately which represents total cost of operation installed and ready for business. NOTHING ELSE TO BUY. Truck Driver Dies in an Accident

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A large feed truck overturned on a pickup truck near Tontitown today, killing the driver of the feed truck. The operator of the pickup truck was injured.

Sheriff Hollis Spencer said George William Hollingsworth, 27, of Springdale, driver for a Springdale poultry feed company, died instantly when he was thrown out of his truck and crushed beneath the vehicle.

Hollingsworth's truck was traveling behind a pickup driven by O. D. Minesinger, 61, of Tontitown when Minesinger attempted to turn right from U. S. Highway 66 onto a side road one mile west of Tontitown, Spencer said.

The sheriff said Hollingsworth swerved, trying to miss the turning truck. The feed truck then plunged into a ditch and overturned.

Spencer said the front portion of the feed truck landed on the bed of the pickup truck. Hollingsworth was thrown beneath the rear part of his vehicle.

News Briefs

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Association of Student Councils' workshop here, which ends Friday, has attracted about 350 students and their sponsors, George Mathis, director of activities for Denver, Colo., public schools, is consultant.

BENTONVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Kenneth Brown, 17, was fatally injured Sunday when he was knocked from atop a truckload of hay. Brown, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown, died at a Bentonville hospital after he was knocked from the truck as it passed beneath some power lines.

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — A musicians' institute opened here yesterday under sponsorship of the South Central Jurisdiction of the Methodist Church. Cliff Wyant of Nashville, Tenn., is dean of the 4-day session, which drew attendance from eight states.

Berry Won't Return to His State Post

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — William Berry said today he would not return to the state payroll as chairman of the Arkansas Commerce Commission.

He did not elaborate.

Berry, whose home town is Stuttgart, requested without explanation shortly before last month's preferential primary that he be removed from the payroll. There were rumors he would come out in opposition to Gov. Orval Faubus, who appointed him, but no such action materialized.

Insurance Men Against SS Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Insurance industry spokesmen today decried attempts to increase Social Security benefits as an election year device which might weaken the national economy itself.

Testifying before the Senate Finance Committee, Albert C. Adams of Philadelphia, president of the National Assn. of Life Underwriters, said the insurance industry believes passage of a House bill providing 7 per cent increases in old age benefits would seriously weaken, if not destroy, not only the program itself but the entire national economy as well.

Adams and several other insurance industry spokesmen called it an election year device. From the other side, American Legion spokesmen endorsed various of the House approved amendments; and Dr. M. M. Elia, former head of the U. S. Children's Bureau, speaking for the American Public Health Assn., urged Congress to approve the measure. She expressed the personal opinion, however, that it should be made even more liberal.

"Patchwork, election-year expansions are unfair to the employees and employers who pay the social taxes and to the beneficiaries alike," A. D. Marshall told the committee on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

J. Howell Turner, Chicago, director of employee relations of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, challenged the wisdom of changing the law now since, he said, an advisory council created by Congress will not report until the end of the year its recommendations for amendments.

Royal Romance Cools, Man Resigns Post

LONDON (AP)—Robin Douglas-Horne today quit the executive's job he took when his romance with Sweden's Princess Margaret, then was flowering.

Word of his resignation came in a brief announcement from the publishing firm of Stevens, Plunkett & Garrard.

Douglas-Horne is going back to playing the piano—this time at a resort hotel on the French Riviera.

It was in a plush London cocktail lounge 18 months ago that the 25-year-old British blueblood first met the 23-year-old princess. He was playing the piano there at the time.

He threw aside music and took up with the publishing firm to better his prospects for marrying Margaret. But the romance fell through. The Swedish royal family was reported to have decided that despite Robin's aristocratic background he did not have the financial prospects to marry the princess.

Robin's decision to return to the piano seemed to place the final seal on the end of the romance.

CHANGES ON CAPITOL HILL—An extensive face-lifting now going on at Capitol Hill in Washington will result in a vastly expanded, modernized and more efficient plant for the nation's lawmakers. Costing a quarter of a billion dollars, the job will take about six more years for completion. Superimposed on aerial photo above are some of the new buildings which are under construction or are being planned: (1) a third House Office building for the 435 representatives and their staffs, to be built at a cost of 64 million dollars; (2) remodeling of the Capitol, which will include an extension of the center portion by 32½ feet and a complete overhaul of the dome. A four-level, 1,900-car garage will be built under the present east front plaza; (3) the Robert A. Taft Memorial, a $700,000 pink marble carillon tower, underway; (4) a new Senate Office building, which will cost 23.4 million dollars and will provide 40 senators with five-room office suites. The new Senate building should be occupied before the end of this year, and if Congress gives the final go-ahead, the Capitol extension could be completed in time for the 1961 inauguration ceremonies. State Demos to Decide Convention

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The post-state Democratic Committee will meet at 11 a.m. Aug. 22 to fix a date for the biennial party convention, Secretary Frank E. Robins Jr. said today.

The committee also will select a temporary chairman and temporary secretary for the convention. The meeting was called by state Chairman Tom Harper of Fort Smith.

Robins emphasized that the meeting will be for members of the old state committee—not for members who are elected at tomorrow's final Democratic primary.

The newly-elected members do not take office until the state convention.

Under a new law passed by the 1957 Legislature, committee members are being elected for the first time this year at the party primary.

Robins said that several counties still had not certified the official vote for the preferential primary on July 20, when Gov. Orval Faubus was renominated for a third term by a big majority over two opponents.

Robins said that two years ago some counties waited until after the second primary and then certified both sets of returns at the same time. He said the same thing probably would happen this year.

The secretary did not have his records with him and said that without them he did not know which counties were missing.

Navy Blimp Turns From Polar Region

SOUTH WEYMOUTH, Mass. (AP)—The Navy blimp ZPG-2 headed southward today from a polar ice island after completing its mission of demonstrating supply and observation possibilities. The Navy said the blimp, with its crew of 14 and a team of international Geophysical Year scientists, is expected to arrive at the air station in South Weymouth to-

THE STORY: Lieutenant Morrison is questioning teachers in an effort to learn more about Bruce Adams, 13, who has been murdered. Neighbors of the family scarcely noticed the child because he was never in trouble. But teachers are giving him a better insight on the boy's personality.

Chapter XIV

Morrison had an idea that he would have about as much success opposing Mrs. Helm as the king that ordered the tide to stop coming in.

"There isn't much to say about Bruce that will help in finding his murderer," she continued with magnificent assurance. It wouldn't occur to her that a trained officer of the law might be a better judge of what was of value, but he let it pass.

"I'd like your opinion of Bruce, both as a student and as a boy. I'm trying to satisfy myself as to just what sort of a person he was."

Mrs. Helm snifted with disdain at such foolishness, but Miss Parnell still sat in silence. Apparently she had learned it was better part of valor to let Mrs. Helm have her say first.

"He just managed to be an average student in history. I couldn't seem to interest him in it. He would do just what he had to and no more, not that he wasn't capable of doing better. He was just obstinate."

"How do you mean, obstinate?" Morrison asked.

"He had a good mind," she explained, "but history was to be straight to interest him and he wouldn't make any effort to improve his grades. From talking to his other teachers I found that his subject where there was something he could get his hands on, like art or music for instance, he was almost to interested. He could have been interested in his Latin, but he didn't care to."

"How did you get along with him, Miss Parnell?" She shifted in her chair and crossed her ankles carefully. "I had somewhat the same trouble that Mrs. Helm spoke of, but not to such an extent. He struggled his way through the required reading, but his book reports showed that he missed a great deal."

"In his essays, though, it was different. We have the students write two essays during the semester, and they are allowed to choose their own subjects. In both of his, Bruce showed a kind of aliveness and feeling that startled me. He was the last student I would have expected such writing from. His composition left something to be desired, but he knew and understood his subjects extremely well."

"What were the subjects he chose?" Morrison asked.

"They were both written about the lives of famous composers, Schubert and Haydn. It was quite obvious that the men were heroes to him."

"Then you would say that he did excellent work in what interested him, but was an average student otherwise?"

"That would be my opinion," she answered.

"Now, just as a matter of routine, would you tell me where you both spent the evening on Tuesday?"

Mrs. Helm was irritated by the question, but he had expected her to be.

"I spent the evening at home. With two children to care for, I have little time to run around."

"Thank you, and you, Miss Parnell?"

"I went to the movies with a friend of mine. His name is Claude Reimer."

U. S., British Map Strategy for Meeting

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd meet today to coordinate their strategy for the U.N. Assembly debate on the Middle East opening Wednesday.

Dulles also was looking over the situation at U.N. headquarters to decide whether President Eisenhower should bolster the American position by a personal appearance before the emergency Assembly session.

Both the Soviet Union and the West were pressing for maximum support in the 31-nation Assembly. Spokesmen for the so-called neutral nations were holding back until they got a hint from both sides on the concrete measures they would propose.

Both the Soviet Union and the United Arab Republic are putting prime emphasis on demands for immediate withdrawal of U. S. troops from Lebanon and Britt troops from Jordan.

Asian diplomats said the Asian-African group of 28 nations—biggest bloc in the U.N. would also press for the troop withdrawals to be followed by consideration of long-range plans under U.N. direction for improving economic and social conditions in the Middle East.

Both U.S. and British diplomatic sources stressed the need for a program that would deal with the broad and fundamental problems of the Middle East. But specific details still were lacking.

Some U.N. diplomats said the prospect of a Soviet attempt to gain recognition for Red China at the emergency assembly appeared to be dimming.

The Soviet Union will probably launch its usual verbal attack on Nationalist China but will hold back on a challenge to the Nationalist Chinese credentials until the regular Assembly session opening Sept. 16, these diplomats said.

The author, Sir Walter Scott, paid his creditors by writing many novels at top speed.

ing to let her go on thinking so.

He thanked her and returned to his chair. The teachers had given him something to think about. They presented a far different picture of Bruce from the one he had received from the boy's parents and friends. It began to look as if he had learned early in life how to politely do as he pleased and save his time for things that interested him. He would have probably grown into one of those people possessed with a drive that would take them to the very top of whatever field they chose.

Morrison was still mulling the problem over when the music teacher arrived. He was a dapper man, about five feet eleven and very thin. His cheeks were sunken and his dark hair needed combing, but it was his eyes that held one's attention. They were never still, and the constant movement made them shine, as if there were a fire of some sort behind them. Morrison had no trouble in picturing him as a music teacher. He would have looked at home even in a bore, like an artist from Paris's left bank.

"Mr. Tibber," he announced, "you're a lieutenant Morrison, aren't you?"

Morrison admitted his identity. Band practice is just over. Sorry to have kept you waiting," he said. Morrison had met the type man times. To those who liked them, they had self-confidence. To those who didn't, they were arrogant. He was inclined to agree with the latter.

TIRING WORK—This tireless youngster is going to be a "tired" young man before he succeeds in moving this 3,355-pound giant at the Firestone plant in Akron, Ohio. The world's largest production tires, they are nine feet tall and each one contains 1,703 pounds of natural rubber, 418 pounds of fabric and more than five miles of bead wire. The huge tires are used in transporting complete pumping stations over the Saudi Arabian sands.

Non-recognition of Red China Defended

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States contended today that its refusal to grant diplomatic recognition to Red China helps block Chinese Communist attempts to extend Communist domination throughout Asia.

The State Department spelled out its attitude in a strongly worded 5,000 word memorandum sent today to all American diplomatic missions overseas.

The memorandum, signed by Secretary of State Dulles, also vigorously restated American opposition to giving the People's Republic of China a seat at the United Nations.
